For this I'm so grateful I don't want to hide I want to give back this good feeling inside the greatest gift you have given to me is experienced love I want to be me cause of you And I want to give it further too

Some people will say that I am naive but deep in my heart I truly be-

- live, that there is love in the dept of us all if we just take the call

You, you found the door to my heart and you walked in you, you gave me courage to begin

And if this courage can reach very far may we all find that we are all good as we are the greatest gift we can give to the world is experienced love yes if this courage can reach very far may we all find that we are all good as we are The greatest gift we can give to the world is experienced love yes it this courage can reach very far may we all find that we are all good as we are the greatest gift we can give to the world is experienced love

The greatest gift we can give to the world is experienced love

Experienced love.

You, you found the door to my heart, and you walked in.

You, showed me the place to begin.

For this I'm so grateful, I don't want to hide

I want to give back, this good feeling inside

The greatest gift you have given to me

is experienced love.

I want to be me cause of you

And I want to give it further too.

Some people will say that I'm naive, but deep in my heart I truly believe, that there is love in the depth of us all if we just take the call.

You, you found the door to my heart, and you walked in.

You, showed me the place to begin.

There is really no use, in hiding inside

The only true thing is to let it flow out

The greatest gift you gave to me

is experienced love.

It is really hard sometimes to see

Behind people's facade there is a me.

We shouldn't buy things and do stuff to pretend,

anyway we will loose it all in the end and inside of your heart nothing is yours if you just pretend.

You, you found the door to my heart, and you walked in.

You, ^{you}~~you~~ gave me courage to begin.
And if this courage can reach very far
May we all find that we are all good as we are
The greatest gift we can give to the world ~~is~~
is experienced love.

Yes if this courage can reach very far
May we all find that we are all good as we are
The greatest gift we can give to the world ~~is~~
is experienced love.

The greatest gift we can give to the world ~~is~~
is experienced love.
